

Final Reminder

HMH Programs and Components Using Flash Will No Longer Be Operable As Of December 21, 2020

Adobe announced in 2017 that it was discontinuing Flash as of January 1, 2021. As we have previously announced, older HMH programs and components of programs that were built using Flash will no longer operate and are being retired as of December 21, 2020.

Please export any student data you would like to retain from the following programs being retired by December 21, 2020.

What programs are being retired?

As of December 21, 2020, the following programs will be retired and will no longer be accessible:

- READ 180 Next Generation
- FASTT Math Next Generation
- READ 180 Enterprise Edition
- System 44 Enterprise Edition
- FASTT Math Enterprise Edition
- Fraction Nation
- Expert 21
- Common Core Code X
- rSkills College & Career
- rSkills Tests

Student data for these programs will no longer be accessible after December 21, 2020.

Note that students will be unenrolled from these programs, as well any bundled assessment applications (such as Reading Inventory, Phonics Inventory and Reading Counts!). This will not affect assessments purchased separately.
